

SET YOUR CROPS UP FOR SUCCESS & STAND UP TO STRESS

Terramar is designed to influence plant growth and development under any growing conditions, containing a proprietary bio-extraction of kelp and leonardite;

- Carbon Based Technology; biologically extracted leonardite enhances nutrient uptake and provides key carbon derivatives for additional energy to optimise plant performance.
- Marine Based Technology; biologically extracted kelp improves crop tolerance to abiotic stressors such as heat, drought, salt and cold, which can represent significant yield-limiting factors.

BENEFITS:

- Increased tolerance to abiotic stress
- Enhanced nutrient uptake
- Increased root growth including nodulation of legume crops
- Improved plant performance in saline growing conditions
- Optimised plant health and performance

FLEXIBLE APPLICATION:

- Foliar applications deliver a unique set of highly active, metabolite-based compounds for quick absorption through the plant leaf tissue
- Can also be applied to the root zone via fertigation or in-furrow application
- Highly compatible with key crop inputs, including liquid fertilisers, insecticides, herbicides, fungicides and PGR's
